GATHERING

PRELUDE

RINGING OF THE BELL

*GATHERING SONG

Twin Oaks, Marty Haugen, 1994

"Let us build a house"

Let us build a house where love can dwell, and all can safe-ly live, a place where saints and chil - dren tell how hearts learn to for - give. Built of hopes and dreams and vi-sions, rock of faith and vault of grace; here the love of Christ shall end di - vi - sions: all are wel - come;
all are wel - come; all are wel - come in this place.

*INVOCATION

Kelly Dodd

(written by Walter Brueggeman)

Leader: We are again at our annual moment to honor labor, to remember those who do hard work, to recall tales of depression poverty, to wonder at our economy. As we remember, we are aware that "labor" today is surrounded by hostile euphemisms – downgrading, outsourcing, minimum wage, 401(k)s – all strategies to cut costs, with the result that laborers are put at more risk, all the while we indulge in endless extravagance.

We are mindful on this day:

That most hard labor in our country is performed by people who may not be like us – African Americans, Hispanics, people who lack our advanced skills and connections, and who settle for being labor that is cheap, while food and housing continue to grow more expensive;

That we are here because our mothers were in labor for us, loving us before we were born, available for inconvenience and for pain, and as we grew . . . for worry in the night.

That there is other work to be done, what Jesus called, “my Father’s work” – healing the sick, caring for the poor, casting out demons, doing the hard work of justice. We give thanks for those who do this.

On Labor Day, with most of us so privileged that we do not sweat unless we play pickleball or jog, give us fresh perspective on our labor, that our lives consist in more than earning and eating, in making and selling, that our lives consist in the hard, urgent work of the neighborhood.

Gracious God, empower us as you did our mothers that we may birth new well-being, that neighbors may live in justice, that we may know the joy of compassion that overrides the drudgery of our common day.

People: We pray in the name of Jesus, from whom we know your own self-giving life, for we gladly confess that “no one works like him.” Amen.

CHILDREN’S TIME

During the sermon time, our young children are welcome to participate in “Sunday Stories.”

CHILDREN’S HYMN

God is So Good, Traditional African

“God is so good”

Paul Makai, tr. Marilyn Foulkes, ca. 1970, rev.

1. God is so good, God is so good,
2. God cares for me, God cares for me,
3. God's all I need, God's all I need,

God is so good, God's so good to me.
God cares for me, God's so good to me.
God's all I need, God's so good to me.

LISTENING

THE FIRST READING

Romans 13:8-14

Kelly Dodd

Leader: A reading from the Letter of Paul to the Romans, the thirteenth chapter.

Owe no debt to anyone—except the debt that binds us to love one another. If you love your neighbor, you have fulfilled the Law. The commandments—no committing adultery, no killing, no stealing, no coveting, and all the others—are all summed up in this one: “Love your neighbor as yourself.” Love never wrongs anyone—hence love is the fulfillment of the Law. Besides, you know the time in which we are living. It is now the hour for you to wake from sleep, for our salvation is closer than when we first accepted the faith. The night is far spent; the day draws near. So let us cast off deeds of darkness and put on the armor of light. Let us live honorably as in daylight, not in carousing and drunkenness, not in sexual excess and lust, not in quarreling and jealousy. Rather, clothe yourselves with our Savior Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the desires of the night.

Leader: The Word of God for the people of God.

People: Thanks be to God.

THE PSALTER

Psalm 119:33–40

The congregation joins in singing the entirety of the Psalm.

Each measure of the chant corresponds to one half-verse of the Psalm, with notes changing at the | symbol.

33. Teach me, O Lord, the way of your | statutes, and I shall keep it to the | end.
34. Give me understanding, and I shall keep your | law;
I shall keep it with all my | heart.
35. Make me go in the path of your com- | mandments,
for that is my de- | sire.
36. Incline my heart to your de- | crees
and not to unjust | gain.
37. Turn my eyes from watching what is | worthless;
give me life in your | ways.
38. Fulfill your promise to your | servant,
which you make to those who | fear you.
39. Turn away the reproach which I | dread,
because your judgments are | good.
40. Behold, I long for your com- | mandments;
in your righteousness preserve my | life.

THE GOSPEL

Matthew 18:15-20

Rev. Becky

Leader: A reading from the Gospel according to Matthew, the eighteenth chapter.

“If your sister or brother should commit some wrong against you, go and point out the error, but keep it between the two of you. If she or he listens to you, you have won a loved one back; if not, try again, but take one or two others with you, so that every case may stand on the word of two or three witnesses. If your sister or brother refuses to listen to them, refer the matter to the church. If she or he ignores even the church, then treat that sister or brother as you would a Gentile or a tax collector. “The truth is, whatever you declare bound on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you declare loosed on earth will be loosed in heaven. “Again I tell you, if two of you on earth join in agreement to pray for anything whatsoever, it will be granted you by my Abba God in heaven. Where two or three are gathered in my name, I am there in their midst.”

Leader: The Word of God for the people of God.

People: Thanks be to God.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

MISSION INVITATION

Rev. Jess

"If you have more than enough material possessions and see your neighbors in need yet close your hearts to them, how can the love of God be living in you?" –1 John 3:17

Out of gratitude to God and in keeping with our mission and values, every week our offering goes to support a vanguard humanitarian organization. This week, cash and designated gifts go to support the Coalition of Immokalee Workers (CIW). The CIW is a worker-based human rights organization internationally recognized for its achievements in fighting human trafficking, sexual violence, modern-day slavery, and other human rights abuses. The CIW is also recognized for pioneering worker-driven, socially responsible fair food programs in unprecedented partnerships among farmworkers, growers, and the buyers from major retail chains. CIW programs protect tens of thousands of workers harvesting dozens of crops across 23 states and three countries. On this Labor Day Weekend, we are thankful for the selfless dedication of this organization. Thank you for prayerfully considering support of the Coalition's work.

You can use the QR code to donate to both this week's mission and to First Church! If you are giving by cash or check and would also like to give something to First Congregational Church, please ask one of our deacons for an envelope and mark it accordingly. Thank you so much for your consideration and generosity. Any amount significant to you is significant to us.

"Put me to the test, says Yahweh Omnipotent, and see if I do not open windows in the sky and pour so much blessing on you that you cannot contain it!" –Malachi 3:10

OFFERTORY MUSIC

Herbert Howells, 1928

"My eyes for beauty pine"

Robert Seymour Bridges, 1890

My eyes for beauty pine,
My soul for Goddes grace:
No other care nor hope is mine,
To heaven I turn my face.

One splendour thence is shed
From all the stars above:
'Tis named when God's name is said,
'Tis Love, 'tis heavenly Love.

And every gentle heart,
That burns with true desire,
Is lit from eyes that mirror part
Of that celestial fire.

Leader: We are the body of Christ.

People: We are made one body through the love of Jesus and the work of the Holy Spirit.

Leader: We gather at the table to retell the story of death, resurrection, and oneness with God. The night Jesus was betrayed, he gathered with his friends:

People: Friends who would betray him, friends who would deny him, friends who would flee from him.

Leader: Still, out of love, Jesus gathered them unto himself, so they could eat, connect and remember.

Breaking the bread, He gave us the words of our sacrament:

People: Take, eat. This is my body broken for you. Eat it to remember me.

Leader: After supper, Jesus poured and blessed the cup, and gave us the meaning of our remembrance:

People: Take, drink. This is my blood, shed for all. Drink it to remember me.

Leader: Anointed One, we gather at Your table to affirm Your sacrifice and our faith. By making ourselves one in Your sacrament, we unmake our fears, our limitations, and our obstacles to Your way.

People: We join hearts and hands in this covenant of faith and this observance of community and sustenance.

Leader: Come Holy Spirit, Come. Twine Yourself within these crumbs, dive deep within these cups, so that for us as we receive these elements, we receive nothing less than Your love and presence; when we go from this place, changed by this sacrament, we embody nothing less than Your love in the world.

People: In the name of Jesus and for the sake of the world we pray, Amen.

Leader: The gifts of God for the people of God.

People: Thanks be to God.

Leader: Come, for all things are ready.

COMMUNION HYMN

Confitemini Domino, Jacques Berthier, 1982

“Come and fill our hearts”

Jacques Berthier, 1982

Come and fill our hearts with your peace. You a-lone, O Lord, are ho-ly.

Come and fill our hearts with your peace. Al-le-lu-ia!

Leader: Loving Savior,

People: You have given us these good gifts to show us the way –
 The way to You, to each other, and to the larger world which You inhabit.
 Let this bread and wine give us
 the courage and strength to light the path forward, leaving Your peace and love in our wake.
 At all costs O Gracious One,
 let us be Your true disciples. Amen.

Sacred Earth Eco Tip

The vibrant colors of autumn sweeping across the landscape remind us of the delicate balance of nature—one that is increasingly under threat. Warming temperatures are already altering the natural rhythms of fall. Leaves in some regions are changing color later each year, and if global temperatures rise by just 2°C, autumn could shorten drastically, robbing us of its vivid hues.

Fall is traditionally a time of harvest, but climate change is disrupting agricultural cycles. Erratic weather patterns and rising temperatures are threatening crop yields, which affect global food security. Loss of pollinators like bees and butterflies are vital for crops such as pumpkins and apples, but their populations are declining due to climate change and habitat loss. Without them, fall's harvests are at risk, along with future food supplies. Please act locally as it impacts globally. Source: www.ecoblvd.com

FIRST CHURCH IS A FAITH COMMUNITY

† Called together by God, the Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer of life, to worship, pray and serve;

† Led by Jesus Christ, our Teacher and Savior, to learn the faith and welcome all God's children;

† Empowered by the Holy Spirit to witness God's love and justice between ourselves, and throughout the world.

We covenant with the Lord Jesus Christ and one another, and bind ourselves in the presence of God to live together in all God's ways as revealed to us by the Holy Spirit and holy scripture. The church acknowledges that all members have the right of individual interpretation of the principles of the Christian faith and respects them in their honest convictions.

In accordance with the teaching of our Lord, the church recognizes two sacraments: Baptism and Holy Communion.

OPEN AND AFFIRMING STATEMENT

We, the members of First Congregational Church, United Church of Christ, Columbus, Ohio, welcome and affirm all. We believe we are all created in God's image and called to love our neighbors as Jesus loves us. We believe we are many members, but one body in Christ, called to unite all people in God's love. We are a community seeking God's presence and love in our lives. We seek to unite persons of all ages, races, nationalities, ethnicities, sexual orientations, sexes, gender identities and expressions, family structures, mental, intellectual and physical conditions, economic circumstances, political, theological and faith backgrounds. Together in our diversity, and being empowered and directed by the Holy Spirit, we will "do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with our God." (Micah 6:8)
